International Markets Fees and Charges

A. Trading in International Securities

Our primary source of income from the AUSIEX International Markets service is from the brokerage paid on transactions made through your Australian Financial Service Licensee (Adviser) and other Companies when using our services. These can generally range from 0.08% to 0.55% depending on the exchange where the relevant security is traded, subject to a minimum charge of US$15. Remaining charges over and above our minimum brokerage will be paid to your Adviser and attributed to any additional advice fees and/or service fees charged to you by your Adviser (where applicable). Refer to your Adviser for further details.

Unless otherwise indicated, where a fee or charge is expressed as a percentage, it refers to a percentage of the transaction value.

Note that brokerage, exchange fees, and foreign taxes may be charged to you in foreign currencies. Levied amounts may be charged to you in the foreign currency or converted to Australian Dollars at the applicable market rate.

Where an order for an International Security remains partially filled for more than one trading day, you will be charged at least the minimum fee(s) for each day a transaction is executed in respect of that order until the order is completely filled.

B. Market fees

There may be additional charges depending on the exchange being traded on and the type of investment. These are in addition to the brokerage charge and are passed on at cost.

You wish to sell 200 units of Stock A at a price of US$100 per unit. The applicable brokerage on your account is 0.08% of the transaction value, subject to a minimum of US$15. Therefore, the brokerage on this trade would be US$16 (being 0.08% of US$20,000)

Assume, for example, $1 Australian is buying 65 US cents. Exchange rates are subject to market conditions and may change at any time.

The sell trade is executed for 200 units x US$100, being US$20,000 is equal to AU$30,769.23 (US$20,000/AU$0.65).

If your account is established as an AUD account, proceeds from sell trades will be automatically converted to Australian Dollars and you are charged a Currency Conversion fee of 0.60%, equal to US$120 or AU$184.62.

As this was a sell trade in a US market the SEC Clearing Fee, which is a regulatory fee, is applicable and included in the trade automatically. The current charge is the equivalent of US$8 per million dollars, or 0.0013%.

Total proceeds	US$20,000
Plus Brokerage	US$16
Plus Currency Conversion fee	US$120
Plus SEC Clearing Fee	US$0.26

Assume, for example, $1 Australian is buying 65 US cents.

The buy trade is executed for 200 shares x US$100, being US$20,000 equal to AU$30,769.23.

If your account is established as an AUD account, payment for buy trades are automatically converted from Australian Dollars at the time of execution and you are charged a Currency Conversion fee of 0.60%, equal to US$120 or $184.62 in Australian Dollars.
